MARILYN JENKINS

Marilyn Jenkins, of grade 9, is the winner of this month's final Bugle Essay Competition award, and her very well expressed opinion on the question: "Should Canada Become A Republic?" is published herewith:

SHOULD CANADA BECOME A REPUBLIC?

MARILYN JENKINS

Grade 9

A republic is a form of state based on the principle that sovereignty resides in the people, who delegate the power to rule in their behalf to elected representatives and officials. If Canada were to become a republic, she would delegate trust and faith to officials of the country and have no recognition of the Queen. In some cases, a country which has taken the step to be a republic turns out to be a victim of tyrannical government, for the republican form of state may be used for autocratic and dictatorial purposes.

Canada would suffer in many ways if she became a republic. Her bonds with the Commonwealth mean a great deal to trade and world friendliness. The Commonwealth has been successful and will continue to be successful because of unity, co-operation, mutual consultation, and friendly and informal discussions. It remains together because its members find they can be immensely useful to each other and to the world as an organization and not as separate groups.

To the members of this great organization, special privileges have been granted. An example is "Preferential Tariffs." These are put on goods entering a country belonging to the Commonwealth. Without Canada in this group, the tariffs would be removed.

ParentTeacher Interviews

Both our schools appreciated the very high percentage of parents who attended the October-November parent-teacher interviews. Brigadier Gault School reported three of the four kindergarten classes and one Grade 1 room had a one-hundred per cent attendance, with a range of eighty to one hundred per cent for the whole school. Major General Griesbach School welcomed the very high percentage of parent attendance at these interviews.

Librarians' Conference

Our librarians, Mrs. C. Gouin and Mrs. S. Kowalchuk, attended the recent conference of the Library Council of the Alberta Teachers' Association held at Red Deer.

Christmas Holidays

Holidays begin after school on Friday, December 22. Students will be back at their desks at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, January 3, 1969. Happy holidays.

Centennial Quiz

A Centennial Quiz, comprising 100 questions on Canada, was conducted by Mr. J. Majakey, principal of Brigadier Gault School. This was given to pupils of grades 4-6 and to as many parents as could be contacted. Results were: highest lady scorer, Mrs. J. N. Gauthier, 93 per cent; highest man, Mr. N. Bodnar, 85 per cent; highest boy, Bobbie Strand (grade 6), 64 per cent; highest girl, Susan Moray (grade 5) 40 per cent. The teachers' average (of those who took it) was 76.2 per cent. The ladies' average was 75.1 per cent and the men's 64.8 per cent. It seems the ladies were more knowledgeable than the men!

Poppy Sales

Edward Paradis (grade 4) reports that the responsibility of Remembrance Day poppy sales at Brigadier Gault School was given to Mrs. McLean's grade 4 class. Speeches on the meaning of Remembrance Day were prepared by the following students: Andrea Tenta, Diana Boucher, Donald Coyes, Robert Gracie, Karen Harper, Debbie Heaver, Karen Jordan Vera Mazeroll, Robert Noble, and Michael Oben. These students, carrying posters, went to each classroom of the school, explaining to each class the significance of the sale of poppies for Remembrance Day. The total sales at Brigadier Gault School amounted to $36.14.

If for no other reason than for sound economic policy, it is to our advantage to remain as a member of the Commonwealth and reap the benefits. We must not let age-old prejudice against the monarchy cloud our judgement and destroy the ties which have withstood these many years.

Remembrance Day

Observances were held in all classrooms of our schools on Remembrance Day and appropriate attention was given in the curriculum to the significance of that special day.

Creativity

Here are two rather amusing limericks written by Miriam Weber in Miss E. Free's grade 6 class at Brigadier Gault school.

A bear who was seeking some honey
 Thought it would be exceedingly funny
 If he caught all the bees
 And broke off their knees
 Then sold all their honey for money.

A timid young man on a bus
 Bumped a lady who caused quite a fuss;
 She flattened his face
 And caused him disgrace,
 Then kicked him right off the bus.

SPORTS

Girls' Volleyball Inter-School Team

Griesbach won all three games against Rosslyn and all three games against Sherbrooke. In their games against Wellington they lost two, 24-20 and 27-18; and won one, 22-20. They are tied with Wellington, having won seven games and lost two.

Volleyball House League started on November 22, with 33 grade 7's, 25 grade 8's and 12 grade 9's registered.

BUGLE ESSAY COMPETITION ENDS

The Bugle Writers' Contest

During the past year, The Bugle has featured a monthly Essay Competition, open to students from grades 8 and 9 of the Junior High School. Some highly commendable efforts have been published. The purpose of the competition has been primarily to motivate young people to take an interest in their local newspaper and also to stimulate written expression of opinion on controversial issues of the day. It has been decided to change the format of this competition with a view to encouraging the development of creative writing and to widen the interest level among students. The competition will henceforth feature contributions in the form of original poems or short, short stories from all the Junior High School, that is, from grades 7 through 9. The editors hope that there will be an encouraging response from these grades. The awards will be $5 each for the best original effort from each grade.

CHRISTMAS FIRE SAFETY

The festive season of Christmas is fast approaching, families are busy shopping for gifts, father is planning ways of decorating the home and everyone is looking forward to family gatherings in celebration of this joyous Yuletide.

Along with the joys of the festive season we have the ever present danger of fire and these dangers are intensified during this period.

Christmas trees, decorations, lighting sets, presents and wrapping paper are all added fire hazards to our homes and they require extra precautions on the part of the whole family.

If only flame-proofed decorations and approved lighting sets in good repair are used, if the tree is kept in water and everyone uses extra care during the holiday we can indeed

"Have a Merry Christmas."
 Your Fire Department.

In our small town we pride ourselves on keeping up with the times. Our supermarket is the chromiest, and most of the farmers have replaced their horses with tractors and station wagons.

One of the latter, shiny, new, pulled up to the curb near me other day. As the elderly driver got out, the car began to roll. He yanked the door open and set the hand brake. Then, walking around to the front of the car again, he patted the hood fondly, and remarked to me, "She hates to stand."

I overheard a man asking for cigarettes in a drugstore. "Would you mind making up a carton of mixed brands?" he asked apologetically. "You see, I want to stop smoking, and I'm trying to find a kind I don't like."

FOR THE LADIES . . .

by Ellen Kierstead

This month's issue will introduce you to the Women's Editor, MRS. ELLEN KIERSTEAD of 10727 - 1552 Avenue, PMQ 630.

Mrs. Kierstead hails from the "Ottawa Valley" of Pembroke, Ontario. Her career up to now includes looking after three school age children (Dale 13, Richard 11, and Cheryl 9), part-time steno work, an interest in scrapbooks, photography and writing. She is the author of a play and has been gathering material for a novel for the past several years.

At present she spends her spare time on a Centennial Project, "collecting" other people's centennial Projects." Mrs. Kierstead would be glad to receive clippings, photos, etc., of projects taken on by cities, towns, church and social groups, schools, and especially those projects done by individuals. It should be interesting to see what Canadians across Canada have done for their country's 100th anniversary. Mrs. Kierstead is negotiating with a publishing firm to promote her project.

All items at Namao base should be addressed to Mrs. Kierstead, box 37, Lancaster Park, Alberta.

Ladies with special services and assistance to the community will be of special interest as well as beauty tips, family interests, etc.

COME ON LADIES — RISE AND SHINE.

CFP Sends a Warm Welcome to Cold Lake Client

OTTAWA (CFP) — Canadian Forces Press extends a warm welcome this month, and its co-operation, to a new client at CFB Cold Lake, Alta.

CFP thus adds its 52nd publication to the list of armed forces clients it services with news and feature material. It also serves nine forces radio stations here and in Europe.

The papers — offset, letterpress and even stencil produced — have a total press run of 70,000. They originate at command, base and station levels in Canada and Europe for regular forces readers and in a variety of units of the reserves.

They include well established weeklies and bi-weeklies, some appearing monthly and others less often.

All have a common aim — to inform the military member and his family on what is going on in the forces.

Importance Stressed

In a time of reorganization of the forces on such an unprecedented scale, the importance of unofficial service newspapers as a medium of information to inform service personnel of changes and their significance has correspondingly developed.

CFP has been established at Ottawa to encourage the growth of papers such as Cold Lake's venture.

In addition to news material, CFP provides encouragement to part-time editors by means of technical tips and information. A total of 45 editors, including F/L O. G. Amesbury of Cold Lake, attended a conference at CFB Uplands, Ottawa, in September where they were addressed by Defence Minister Leo Cadieux, himself a former weekly editor; Air Marshal F. R. Sharp, vice-chief of defence staff, and high-powered representatives of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

Every time he had a day off, my young doctor friend and his wife went skiing. Since I knew they were having a financial struggle it was a mystery to me how they could so regularly afford to spend the eight to ten dollars for the ski-tow tickets. One day I asked his wife how they managed it.

"Oh," she said, "it's simple. John receives a free pass because he is a doctor. And I inherit the ticket off the first casualty carried into the first-aid room."

NORTH BAY JOINING FORCES PRESS SERVICE

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CFP) — Canadian Forces Press welcomes another member to its family of service newspapers and radio stations.

The "Shield" at North Bay is due to hit base streets and married quarters early in December with F/L Tom Spruceton as editor. Produced by offset from type, the Shield for the time being will be issued monthly.

Other bases publishing papers in the air defence command system include the Comox (B.C.) Totem Times; the Bagotville (Que.) Beacon; the St. Hubert (Que.) Hub, and a brand new paper at Cold Lake, Alta., the Courier. Plans also are progressing for a paper at CFB Chatham, N.B.

CFP also services such station ventures as the Alsask (Sask.) Tumbleweed; Moisie (Que.) Massey Park Times; Holberg (B.C.) Sea Gull Courier; Beaverlodge (Alta.) Beaverscope; Sydney (N.S.) PMQ Bulletin; and the Val d'Or (Que.) Voodoo Drums.

The 52 papers have a total of 70,000 from offset, letterpress and even stencil machinery. They originate at command, base and station levels here and overseas, and in various reserve units.

All have a common aim — to inform the military member and his family on what is transpiring in the forces.

NAVY LEAGUE ANNOUNCES SEA CADET AWARD'S

TORONTO (CFP) — Cadet Petty Officer Patrick Hunt of the Minas Corps in Hantsport, N.S., is cadet of the year.

The Navy League of Canada competitions involved 178 corps over the training year ending in June.

Best attendance winners were Churchill corps (under 100 cadets) at Ramea, Nfld., 99.3 per cent attendance, and Rainbow (more than 100 cadets) with 100 per cent at Victoria.

The general proficiency award goes to Malaspina corps (less than 100 cadets) at Powell River, B.C., and Agamemmon (more than 100) at Windsor, Ont.

Canada's sea cadet program is Navy League sponsored in partnership with the RCN.

FORCES JOINING GREY CUP PARADE

OTTAWA (CFP) — Canada's forces will be represented in Ottawa's Grey Cup parade Dec. 2 before the east-west football classic.

Their float will show forces display photos and football situations to emphasize that the services rely on team spirit and teamwork too.

Flanking the float will be a marching contingent of 20 in current and vintage uniforms, including new trial greens.

Preceding the float will be the Cameren Highlanders of Ottawa pipe band.

UN STANDBY FORCE FOUND READY TO GO

FORT WILLIAM, ONT. (CFP) — Brigadier E. M. D. Leslie of Montreal, 49-year-old head of Canada's UN standby force, after a week-long UN exercise in the northwestern Ontario bush by key elements of his 6,000-man, 2nd Canadian Infantry Brigade Group, summed up his force as follows:

1. They can go anywhere within one hour of a Canadian government decision.

2. He and his staff now "probably know more about this part of Canada (Ktlnora to the Lakehead) than the people who live here".

3. They have aerial photos of every bridge in the 28,000 square-mile area and know how to repair them if damaged or destroyed.

4. In most cases his soldiers could take over many of the public utilities and operate them in an emergency.

Units taking part in Exercise Poncho IV come from Petawawa, London and Picton Ontario, Rivers, Man., and Edmonton.

HAPPY HUNTERS

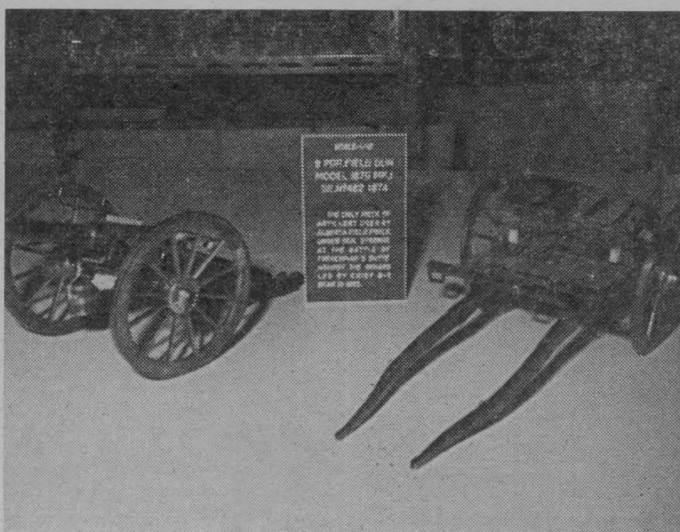

Base Maintenance

by Sgt E. W. Lewis

After a noticeable absence of my column I'm back to remind all the "skunked" hunters that the season will soon be over so get cracking. I would also like to congratulate all those that returned with game.

Two of the lucky hunters are pictured above. They are Sgt "Murray" Payne and Cpl "Wayne" Boles, from the Small Arms section at 224 Workshop. The boys got this beauty which dressed approximately 800 lbs at a "secret slick" known only to them. Congratulations on a prize winning kill boys.

A few months ago this column had a picture of a 9 PR, Rifled Muzzle Loading cannon and limber which was one of the artillery pieces used by General Strange's army during the Louis Riel Rebellion, May 1885. Pictured above is a hand made miniature replica of this cannon. This miniature was made by Cpl "Jim" Post as his Centennial project.

A few of the familiar faces missing from the fold these past months are Cpl "Ollie" Lovely, posted to New Brunswick; Cpl "Leo" Menard, released and retired to Lac La Biche. Sgt's "Charlie" Beange and "Guy" Chaisson are at the RCME School attending group 4 courses in the vehicle technician trade. Sgt "Bill" Taylor, the Workshop Instrument Tech, is down in the U.S.A. learning how to repair office machinery. To all of those mentioned above, whether they are on course posting or release we at Base Maintenance would like to take this opportunity to wish them the best of luck in their future employment.

We welcome to the Land Maintenance organization the following: WO2 Phillips, F/S Hunter, ACFN Green and ACFN Lamontagne, all employed at the Workshop, Lancaster Park. The welcome mat is also out to "Walter" Campbell who replaced Mr. "Ernie" Hunnisett who left the organization for greener fields. Farewell Ernie, hello Walt.

A loss for Telephone Accounts Section is a gain for Base Maintenance when Miss "Olive" Bruens was transferred to this unit. Welcome to the fold Olive, we hope that your stay will be a long and enjoyable one.

HEROISM RECOGNIZED BY AWARDING OF BRITISH EMPIRE MEDAL

Halifax — Leading Seaman Doyle C. White, of Lockport, N.S., received the British Empire Medal from the Honourable H.P. MacKeen, Lieut.-Governor of Nova Scotia, at an investiture at Government House on Nov. 9.

Ldg. Sea. White was awarded the BEM for his action during a flash-fire on board the helicopter-destroyer HMCS Nipigon at sea on Oct. 18, 1965.

Ldg. Sea. White was in his mess when two explosions blew the locked cover off a tank containing helicopter fuel, resulting in a flash fire. He was burned on the face and hands. He escaped from the mess and after reporting the fire returned to the scene. Learning that an unconscious man was still in the mess, he donned breathing apparatus and made his way through the heavy black smoke which filled the area. Freeing the unconscious man, Ldg. Sea. White, with the assistance of Able Seaman W.T. Gray of St. Johns, Nfld., who had just entered, carried the man to safety then searched to ensure no one was left in the mess.

Both sailors then worked with the damage control parties in extinguishing the fire in the mess, which was adjacent to an ammunition storage compartment and in the removal of smouldering material. Only then did Ldg. Sea. White seek medical attention.

"HAPPY HERCS" SQUARE DANCE CLUB

Well, the festive season has rolled around again and everyone is starting the hustle and bustle movements. All the clubs are preparing for their Christmas dances and hoping for a goodly number of visitors to make the party enjoyable. "The Happy Hercs" have also caught the bug and are holding their party as a "Hamper Dance," similar to last year. The Hamper Dance will be held at the Guthrie School Gym at Lancaster Park starting at 8:30 p.m. on the 19 Dec 67. Instead of bringing money for admission, the admission fee will be $1.50 or more in non-perishable groceries. If you are unable to attend, any donations sent along will be gladly received. After the dance, the groceries are divided between the Protestant and R.C. chapels on the base. The Padres then forward them to needy families and charities. We are hoping a goodly number of callers will participate. Coffee and refreshments will be served. So join in the fun and at the same time make like a do-gooder. As a reminder we will start dancing on the 9 Jan(23 Jan, and 6 Feb, 68.

ALLARD ENCOURAGES HIS 'INFANTEERS'

OTTAWA (CFP) — General J. V. Allard, recently appointed colonel commandant of the Royal Canadian Infantry Corps, has sent a letter acknowledging the "great honour" to all his infantry units.

"I have always believed that the inherent, native intelligence which the Canadian infantryman has possessed from his earliest fighting days, in the woods and on the rivers and lakes of the new world, in the 17th and 18th centuries, and which confounded the professionally-trained European soldier, can meet any challenge", he wrote.

"This has been proven in the first and second world wars, in the Korean war, as part of the deterrent force in Europe, and in our various peacekeeping activities."

The chief of the defence staff mentioned the progression of forms of fighting and said the "key to the infantryman as the back-bone of the ground forces is his flexibility — whether he is fighting in a mechanized role, in an air-portable role, in a parachute role, or in an assault role from the sea..."

Forces reorganization gives both regular and militia infantry units a "most challenging future."

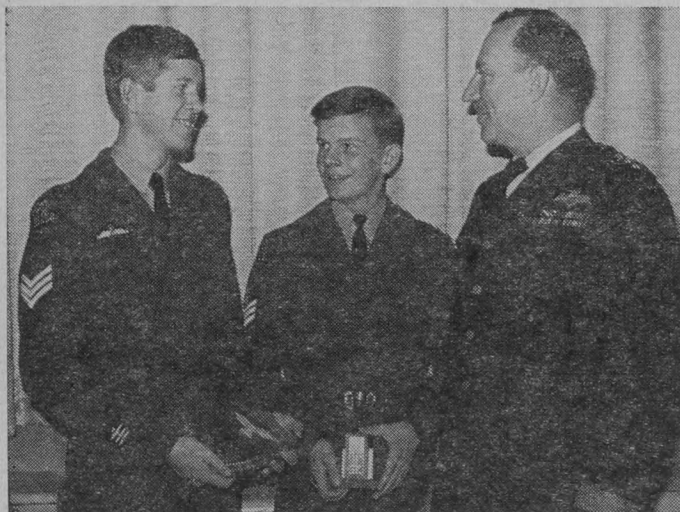

SUPREME ALLIED COMMANDER AT UPLANDS

1 PPCLI REPORT

SPORTS

Our football season is finished for this year at Hamilton Gault Barracks. The semi-finals were played on 8 Nov with the following results: "A" Coy 18, "B" Coy 0; "C" Coy 13, SP Coy 0. I must mention HQ Company, and wish them the best of luck next year, they were left out in the cold this year by not winning a single game.

The Battalion hockey team had a fine start this year in the Edmonton Central League. At present the battalion has won three, lost none and tied one. On the fifteenth of November the Battalion team trimmed the RCAF by a score of 10-0. Very well done. The hat tricks are coming easy this year. to name a few, Cpls Einarsson, Bridges and Barnhart. The Central League promises a better calibre of hockey and I urge you to come and cheer your winning team on to victory again this year.

PROMOTIONS

Congratulations are extended on the recent promotions to Captain. The following officers are sporting three new pips on their shoulders: Burns, McMurray, McManus, Ronkley and Parrish. Congratulations also go to WO2 Tuttle on his recent promotion.

100th JUMP

The airborne needle pusher, Cpl Hassen, completed his 100th para descent on 6 Nov. The aircraft made a special pass for Cpl Hassen in order that everyone could witness the event. Congratulations and may the remainder of your descents be safe and sound.

In case no one noticed Snr Cpl Schuler lately, he is now sporting new wings on his battle dress. His picture appeared on the last page Mobile Command Newsletter. Tony is the one with the frightened look on his face (second from the right top picture).

The Battalion was deeply grieved by the recent deaths of Sgt Kunsch JA, and Cpl Huttenhain HHKF R.C. Sigs. Cpl Huttenhain was a former serving member of 2 PPCLI. Sgt Kunsch will always be remembered as a truly professional soldier and a fine gentleman.

PPCLI WIVES' CLUB

The monthly meeting of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry Wives' Club will be held at 8 p.m. the 5th of December, 1967, in the lounge of the Leonforte Building, Hamilton Gault Barracks.

There will be a representative of the Winnifred Stewart School for Retarded Children present at this meeting.

We would like to remind our readers of the Club Bazaar to be held on the 2nd of December. The bazaar will be held in the Mall at Northgate Shopping Centre commencing at 9:30 a.m. All proceeds going to the Winnifred Stewart School for Retarded Children.

There are still tickets available from members of the Club for our raffle. The draw for prizes will be carried out at the December meeting.

PPCLI DEPOT NEWS

Following the activities that surrounded "Trooping The Colour" in the first half of October, all members of the PPCLI Depot returned to their tasks renewed in the traditions of the "Patricias".

Two platoons, Gothic Line and Rimini Line, returned to Camp Wainwright, while here at the Depot a new platoon, San Fortunato, was organized and commenced training.

In late October our CO, Major WHJ Stutt, proceeded to Ottawa where he participated in a seminar held by the Canadian Museum Association. While there he attended the opening of the new Canadian War Museum.

Recent additions to our staff are Sgt. Murphy LH, attached from 1 PPCLI, Cpl Gilchrist WR, posted from the Canadian Guards and Cpl Lefis JN, posted from 1 PPCLI. All three are indeed welcome to our staff and we wish them the best in the tasks that lay ahead of them.

As is always the case in the Armed Forces, when someone new arrives, it means someone goes. Our losses this time were CSM (WO 2) Grasley L who returned to 1 PPCLI after having Hitler Line Platoon through their training and assisting Capt DIT Roe with two Infantryman Courses.

Other losses were Cpl Flynn SW and Cpl Shaw RC. Cpl Flynn returned to his unit, 1 PPCLI, after assisting in the training of Hitler Line Platoon. Cpl Shaw was posted to 1 PPCLI after having instructed recruits here at the Depot for four and one half years. To all three we wish them the best in their future endeavors and thank them for the grand job they did while here at the Depot.

EDMONTON, November 14th, 1967 — The 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, a battery from the 3rd Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse

Artillery and a squadron from The Fort Garry Horse Armoured Regiment will form the next Canadian Contingent to serve with the United Nations in Cyprus.

The units will begin their six months tour of duty next April subject to the Government's approval following a renewal of the forces United Nations mandate in December.

The PPCLI will be the ninth infantry battalion to serve in Cyprus and will take their headquarters and two infantry companies with them from their home station in Edmonton.

This will be the second time since 1964, when the UN forces was established, that a Canadian Artillery Battery has carried out the peace-keeping sub-unit under battalion headquarters. The battery comes from Winnipeg and The Fort Garry Squadron from Calgary.

About 900 Canadians are now serving in Cyprus, including a number on the staff and signals detachments at UN headquarters. In 1966 there was a reduction of about 120 Canadians where the entire UN force was cut in size.

Lt.-Gen. W. A. B. Anderson, Commander of Mobile Command, which provides the units for the Cyprus Contingent, recommended the inclusion of artillery personnel in the contingent. General Anderson stated that it would be desirable from time to time to include the artillery in the Cyprus rotation so that this arm, along with the armour and infantry, can receive UN experience. In this way, the combat arms team is given increased opportunity to work together. The contingent in Cyprus does much of its work from observation posts and observation is one of the important skills in the artillery.

Returning from Cyprus in April will be headquarters and three companies of The 1st Battalion Black Watch from Canadian Forces Base Gagetown and a reconnaissance squadron of The Fort Garry Horse from Calgary.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sirs:

Every year my family as many other families do, look forward to Halloween.

It is a time for children to use their imagination for dressing up and make believe.

A time for happiness and fun. A time to give. A time to receive.

What morbid sick people do we have running around our camp to put moth balls and other substances in innocent childrens trick or treat bags. Isn't it about time we "clean up the camp". It is the worst place I have ever lived in.

Those of us who try and raise our children to be decent, self respecting adults when they grow up seem to be fighting a losing battle, to the big bully type loud mouthed child that lives next door.

Where are these childrens parents? Either out working or sitting at the Rosslyn? Or do they stay home only to turn a deaf ear when their child asks them to do something with them.

FITTINGLY FIT

Der Flugplatz at 3 Wing, Zweibrücken, Germany, recently carried this item:

"Cpl Ray McDonald of the wing ground handling section has completed his first one-hundred miles for the '300 miles club.'"

"He started running on the 11 Sep. 67 and has taken only six weeks to complete the first portion of the 300 miles. Running five days a week for a period of six weeks, Ray has averaged over three miles per day."

"There are approximately 25 runners in the 300 mile club and more people are being motivated to join up each week."

Then the story tells how to get particulars from the rec. centre.

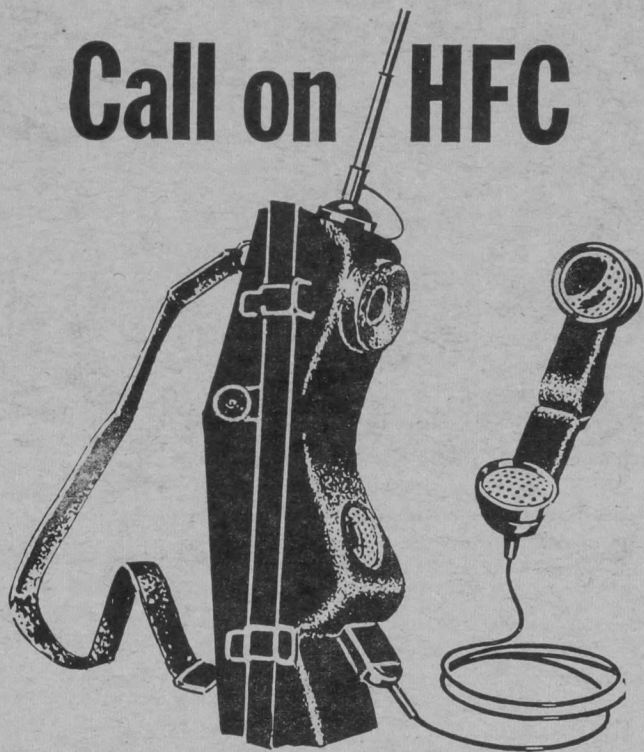

Now Cpl McDonald and company are by no means nuts. They have figured out how to keep fit, with a little fun to keep at it.

Anyone who bothers to look at CFAOs will see that the forces encourage fitness in any way they can. CFAO 50-1 runs 17 pages if you count its attachments, for instance.

Physical fitness is good, common sense. You profit, the forces profit. Any serviceman worth his salt should be doing something about it.

There's one trouble with jet transportation, you can have breakfast in New York, lunch in Los Angeles, dinner in Hawaii and luggage in Dallas.

17 ROD Notes

The Stock Control Wing of 17 ROD (Base Supply) was notified during the past month that it would be moving to Namao within a matter of weeks. Accompanying it will be the Orderly Room, with some of the Warehouse personnel to follow later. This indicates that full implementation of an integrated base supply section should be effected in the very near future and that 17 Regional Ordnance Depot, which exists now only in name, will shortly pass into the annals of Ordnance Corps history.

The depot held what could possibly be its last unit party on Friday evening, 27 October. A number of former 17 ROD personnel attended, and the CO gave a short talk on the history of the depot. For the large number of people who attended the evening was an enjoyable one indeed, and many former acquaintances were renewed.

Five civilian employees of the depot were recent recipients of the Centennial Medal, awarded for long and meritorious service to the nation. They were Eric Harbinson, Mary Lind, Larry Stephens, Walter Kyte and Michael Holubitsky. Sincere congratulations are extended to all five on their well-deserved recognition.

Tuesday, 21 November was the date on which Mr. Michael Holubitsky left the depot after fourteen years of employment.

He was presented with a certificate of recognition of his long service, and the best regards of his fellow employees go with him.

As always, the depot personnel were quite active in sports during the past month. We have two rinks entered in the Recreational Curling League and both are doing quite well at present.

The 17 ROD volleyball team is presently leading in the league standings, having had recent stand-out performances against 10 SDB and the PPCLI Depot.

The Annual Fall Bonspiel was held on 16/17 November, with ten rinks entered. Prizes went to the "A" winner — Sgt Gallagher's rink; the "B" winner — Mr. McArthur's rink; and the "A" and "B" runners-up — Sgt Lewis' and Sgt Thuillier's rinks respectively.

SAFETY SHEKELS FOR CYPRUS CHAUFFEURS

NICOSIA, CYPRUS (CFP) — Safe driving does indeed pay.

In fact, for driving safely for the equivalent of more than five times around the world during a six-month tour of duty with the United Nations here, 11 drivers from the 2nd Battalion, The Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, have been paid in cash — amounting to $425.

The prizes, which were paid out of unit funds, were presented by Lt.-Col. N. A. Robinson, the battalion commander, before the battalion's rotation to Canada.

The awards are particularly significant when considered by Canadian standards. In Cyprus vehicles drive on the left side of the road. This involves narrow, one-way streets in the cities and narrow, twisting country highways. Along with this is driving in the outpost area in the Kyrenia Mountains which involves unimproved trails.

The first prize of $100 was won by Rfn. O. R. Harding who drove a total of 16,011 miles. Second prize of $75 was won by Rfn. D. J. Winget, who drove 15,133 miles and third prize of $50 was won by Rfn. N. D. Donnelly who drove 12,692 miles.

Prizes of $25 each were awarded to: Rfn. T. L. Woodworth, Rfn. A. W. Bellefontaine, Rfn. L. W. McKay, Rfn. M. J. Belliveau, Rfn. T. D. Vanbuskirk, Rfn. G. A. McCall, Cpl. R. E. Stewart and Rfn. R. St. Amand. All drove between 11,172 and 12,537 miles.

In addition to the prizes for the drivers, two transport NCO's each won prizes for the lowest accident rates. Sgt. J. W. Lalor, "B" Company, won $50 and Sgt. H. D. J. Gagnon, HQ Company, $25.

Sea Cadet News

R.C.S.C.C. WARRIOR has had a very successful recruiting year with 60 new men added to the Corps. The Corps' strength is now up to 185 lads. This is the result of a recruiting program but, mostly, the lads, who attended the many summer camps, courses, and cruises made available to them during the centennial year.

The Corps' Padre C. Beaton has been entry training officer, and through his efforts the lads have progressed rapidly. Uniforms are being distributed and the new lads are a credit to the Corps and the Service. Many of the lads come "up through the ranks" from the Navy League Corps and are able to move up very rapidly. Off-the-street recruits prove up rapidly as courses progress.

The change of command was announced last spring. Lt. E. Candler was appointed Commanding Officer at the retirement of Lt. W. Arnett. With it came the corresponding moves up. Lt. A. Law was appointed Executive Officer from Training Officer. Lt. W. Love was appointed Training Officer from Divisional Officer. Sub Lieutenant Linford was appointed Supply Officer at the retirement of Sub Lieutenant J. Headspeath who was forced to retire, due to business pressure.

The Corps welcomes the addition of two instructors; Mr. Jo McDowell joins the ship with a background involving Sea Cadets — R.C.S.C.C. KAMLOOPS and R.C.S.C.C. CAPTAIN VANCOUVER. This was followed with 4 years in the R.C.N. He will be spending some time instructing the corps in Gunnery; Mr. Eric Smith whose vast background in naval training will be invaluable to the Corps. He joined the Air Branch of the R.C.N.R. in 1947 and served on board the carrier H.M.C.S. WARRIOR. He was with H.M.C.S. NONSUCH until she was decommissioned in 1963. Two years of retirement and he returned to the active list with the University Naval Training Division at Alberta. With the closing down of the U.N.T.D. establishments, we are pleased he has joined the Corps. Full time, Mr. Smith is employed with Woodward's Stores.

Miss Jean Barra who was the Corps' secretary for 7 years left the Corps this year in order to advance her education with night courses at the University of Alberta. Her efforts in the past have done much for the success of the Corps and her office efficiency had a large part to play in the standings and awards attained by the Corps. Miss Barra works with the City of Edmonton in the Purchasing Department during the normal work day. The Corps wishes her every success in her studies and hopes that she will find time to visit the Corps periodically.

The office duties have been taken over by Miss Marjorie Barr. The heavy office load of the beginning of the year has been handled very ably and we look forward to another successful year. Miss Barr works as a teller for Northwest Trust Co. during the working day.

The training program is well under way and the rough edges of individuals are being smoothed to form the "unit" expected from WARRIOR cadets every year. The training organization under Lt. Love is very efficient with all courses programmed well in advance.

Arrangements were made to supplement the naval training with lectures from Army personnel. Major E. C. Freeman of the 6th Intelligence Training Company band at Ortona Armouries has been kind enough to have lectures available to the Corps. These have been very well received and we are grateful for these additional training opportunities.

Our Petty Officer numbers have been swelled with a large number of very able Cadets. They are well trained and this training is being put to good use in lecturing the junior ranks. It is good training for the boys and is well received by the Cadets.

The training program efforts are always tested with exams. If the Able Cadet examination results are any indication, this year will be even more successful. In recent examinations, about 80 percent were successful.

Another part of the results of training were shown when the Cadets participated in a church parade Remembrance Sunday, September 5. A parade was held at Eastwood United, the church of the Corps' padre. It was well attended with 70 cadets parading. The sermon was given by Major Gordon Mercer, Chaplain at Canadian Forces Base, Edmonton. His sermon was very well chosen for the large number of young people in attendance and many favourable comments were heard.

The church parade was followed on November 11 with the Corps' participation in the annual Royal Canadian Legion's Remembrance Day Parade. The weather was more favourable than previous years and the Corps turned out 100 strong. The lads are told of the honour of the uniform which they wear and this day, more than any amount of lectures, impresses this point.

Following the ceremonies at the cenotaph, the Cadets handled themselves with more experience than their years would indicate in the March past. Many favourable compliments were received from critical eyes.

The parade ended at the Four Aces Restaurant where the Ladies Auxiliary treated the lads to hot chocolate, chips and hamburgers. Mrs. Marie Pelletier was gracious enough to open her premises for this purpose and is to be commended for it.

With the Corps off to such a rolling start, it is felt that R.C.S.C.C. WARRIOR will have its most successful year yet.

I had given my second-grade class a lesson on magnets. As a follow-up, I passed out sheets with this question: "My name starts with M, and I pick up things. What am I?" Imagine my surprise when ten of the youngsters wrote, "Mother."

ON FUGITIVE LISTS

Department of National Defence

WINNIPEG, Oct. 27 — Fifteen Manitoba-based soldiers went on the fugitive lists of federal and military police forces in the three Prairie provinces today.

Although the object of a three-province manhunt, authorities say that citizens and motorists may offer all the aid they wish in helping the men evade capture, without legal reprisals.

Name of the game for the fleeing soldiers is escape and evasion while gaining tactical and strategical information over a 1200-mile foot trek from Calgary to Edmonton and across the Prairies to home base in Winnipeg.

The long-range patrol in "enemy" territory called Exercise Pilgrim Progress II is designed to develop ingenuity, resourcefulness and stamina in five officers and 10 NCOs travelling independently in three man groups. Deadline for reaching home base is five days from now, midnight next Saturday.

The men are members of Winnipeg's 3rd Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, and the 2nd Surface-to-Surface Missile Battery of Canadian Forces Base Shilo, Man. Out to track them down are RCMP detachments in the three Prairie provinces, along with roving military patrols.

The men were flown from Winnipeg to Calgary today by the RCAF. At Calgary they set off on foot with maps, compasses, sleeping bags and five days pack rations. They may also "live off the land", if necessary. Along the route to Edmonton and across the Prairies — apart from dodging the law — they will be required to perform a number of tasks to gain information for make-believe future operations.

The men are carrying no weapons or money and are dressed in army combat uniforms with white armbands on each sleeve. They are permitted to hitch hike and accept any help offered by civilians.

Photographs of the men have been circulated to all RCMP detachments along the route, and if captured will be released after names and other particulars are given. Although not a competition between teams, points are lost each time a group is apprehended.

And just to make sure the Prairie trek is no snap, broadcasting outlets will carry police reports asking citizens to report sightings of the men to the nearest RCMP detachment.

Although the cards are stacked against them, exercise planners say obstacles are no worse than they would encounter if travelling through real hostile countryside. Although citizens are asked to report sightings, they may also offer help in the form of transportation and shelter if they wish.

The men may not acquire assistance by force or threat or resort to violence in any form. Outside of breaking the law, they may use any means they see fit to carry out their missions.

Teams are required to report by long-distance telephone to their Winnipeg headquarters every 24 hours, to divulge location and plans for the next 24-hour period.

The six-day battle of wits and endurance is the brainchild of Lt.-Col. Robert G. Heitshu (Hiteshoo) of Quebec City, commanding officer of the 3rd Regiment, RCHA. Directing the exercise is one of his officers, Capt. J. P. Bouvette of Shawinigan, P. Q.

Similar escape and evasion exercises have been staged in past years by these units, but over different terrain between western Ontario and the Rocky Mountains. Participants in this year's venture will be out to surpass last year's record, when all teams were caught before reaching home base.

He isn't so hot in his studies but so far he has managed to catch everything any of the other pupils have brought to school.

CORNWALLIS NAVY BASE TO EXPAND

TO TRAIN R.C.A.F., ALL SERVICEWOMEN

HALIFAX (CP) — The Cornwallis naval base near Digby, N.S., will be expanded next spring to become a major training centre for Canada's armed forces, Defense Minister Leo Cadieux announced yesterday.

Mr. Cadieux told a news conference that about 60 instructors will be added to the staff of Cornwallis, which will become the basic training base for all English-speaking air force and navy men and for all women from the three forces. The French-language base will be St. Jean, Que.

Mr. Cadieux said the expansion will take place about April or May and the average number of recruits taking the eight-week course will be 1,000.

This will include about 500 naval recruits per year, who take basic training at Cornwallis at present, plus about 500 air force personnel who will go to Cornwallis, rather than St. Jean, where they take currently basic training, a department spokesman said yesterday. He said army basic training will still be given at depots across the country.

Basic training for officer candidates in the forces is given at the three service colleges, and this will continue, the spokesman said.

There is no support for rumors that the RCAF station at Summerside, P.E.I., will be closed, Mr. Cadieux said. There are no specific plans for Summerside, but a general study is being carried out on consolidation of the armed forces.

"The process of unification is pretty long", he said. A study concerning Maritime Command has been going on for some time, but there are no results as yet.

"There is no single base we contemplate to close", he said.

It was our good fortune to entertain a group of foreign teachers. I was telling them about the classes in woodwork my son had attended, and I brought out a small chest about the size of a shoe box to show them. While they looked at it, I left the room to prepare coffee. Suddenly I heard them involved in an animated conversation. When I came back, they were examining several large, pink, plastic, roller-type hair curlers — which I had forgotten to remove from the chest.

When they saw me standing in the doorway, the man with the best command of English said to me, "I was explaining that these are what the American housewife wears to market."

We have 19 Guides, two are new recruits.

The Guides are working hard on their Badges and one Guide is working very hard for her Gold Cord. They have made aprons and have delivered them to homes in the Griesbach area. Queen's Commendation

The quick thinking of an army instructor on the grenade range at Calgary's Sarcie Barracks last June has won him the "Queen's Commendation for Brave Conduct".

Corporal Harold W. Hutchison, 43, of Toronto, serving with the Fort Garry Horse armoured regiment at Calgary, saved two soldiers from possible death or severe injury by hastily disposing of a grenade whose fuse had accidentally started to burn.

On June 28, Corporal Hutchinson was appointed non-commissioned officer in charge of the priming bay on the Sarcie Barracks grenade range. While a soldier under the corporal's supervision was inserting a fuse into a grenade, the fuse started burning.

"With complete disregard for his own personal safety", the citation states, "Corporal Hutchinson immediately grasped the grenade from the soldier's hand and threw it out of the priming bay". It added that "by this immediate response to a dangerous situation, Corporal Hutchinson saved two soldiers from possible severe injury or death".

The award published in the Oct. 28 edition of the Canada Gazette.

Corporal Hutchinson joined the Army in May, 1954. He and his wife now live in Calgary.

AWARDED COMMENDATION

Corporal Fred E. Hassen, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps accepts a cigarette from Lieutenant Colonel A. M. Potts after making the 100th parachute jump of his 13 years army career. Cpl Hassen, a hygiene technician and medical assistant with the battalion, made the jump from a 435 Squadron C-130 Hercules aircraft during a continuation training exercise held north of Namao. Lt. Col. Potts, Commanding Officer, 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, jumped with the first stick and was on the drop zone to congratulate Cpl Hassen as he landed. Cpl Hassen had the privilege of jumping alone in recognition of achieving 100 jumps.

Students at Iowa State University proved once and for all that the computer just can't replace human calculations. They held an "IBM Mixer" dance, where each student fed his vital statistics and interests into a computer and was then paired off with a member of the opposite sex who, the computer said, was most suited to him. Imagine the chagrin of one co-ed who ended up with her twin brother.

SERVICE TO WORLD AND COMMUNITY

An item from Edmonton about three airmen getting presentations is hardly earth-shattering news. But it deserves a closer look just the same.

Cpl. Ross Golden received a chief of defence staff commendation for the "calm and efficient manner in which he carried out his duties during an air incident when a United Nations aircraft was being harassed by two Israeli fighters." He was in an RCAF Caribou on UNEF duties at the time.

F/L W.S. Harker received a certificate of merit for five years voluntary service with the Canadian Red Cross. As a water safety supervisor he has trained instructors in the forces and the RCMP.

Cpl. Larry Bortolotti received a certificate from the most venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem for his five years devoted to courses in teaching methods for benefit of instructors of first aid. The order is the oldest in chivalry. Such awards are not rare in the forces, they are almost commonplace. But when they occur back to back, as it were, as in Edmonton, the chivalry of the Canadian serviceman does not deserve to be overlooked.

GRIESBACH MINOR LAGUE HOCKEY

Sgt. Gus Thuillier who 1st year guided the Griesbach Bantam B hockey team to the finals of the North-East Zone Championships is back again this year. As well as being the Coach again this year Gus has been elected President of the Griesbach Minor Hockey. Gus will be ably assisted by SSgt. Bert Mayan who has assumed the post of Vice-President. This year teams will be entered from PRE-WEE, MITES, BANTAM "B", BANTAM "C" and MIDGETS. These teams will be entered in the Edmonton Minor Hockey League set-up, North-East one. Leagues games will be played at Westwood, Cromdale, Rosslyn, Killarney, Glengarry and the Montrose rinks. No league games will be played in the Griesbach rink as the Rink is not up to the standards as laid down by the Edmonton Metropolitan Minor League association. Its a sad state of affairs when a community of about 600 to 700 families do not have a hockey rink acceptable for league play. The major complaint against the Griesbach Rink seems to be inadequate dressing room facilities and the lack of protection in the way of screening around the boards. The Greisbach Rink will be used chiefly for skating and practice sessions for the teams entered in the North-East Zone. One day kids, we may have a rink, suitable for your needs and one we can be justly proud of, at the moment we are somewhat short of that objective. Others who will be associated with Sgt. Thuillier are: Sgt. Jim Dureen, Cpl. Joe McLellan, Cpl. Harry Drummond, Cpl. Schuller, Cpl. Jack Crawshaw, FO Wheeler and SSgt. George Couture. These are the men who are responsible for the development of our future major league hockey stars. Their future is in good hands.

Hockey Generally

The Communities of Namao and Griesbach have every right to be proud for the contributions they have made to organized hockey in the Greater Edmonton Metropolitan Minor Hockey League set-up. In the City Bantam "AA" League Cpl Carroll (RCAF) has no fewer than 6 boys whose fathers are with either RCAF or ARMY. Gerry coaches the PATRY Service Bantams. He has from Namao, Gerry Carroll, Jeff Collett, Clark Christie, Rick Moreau and Brian McFeely. From Griesbach Roger Leveque rounds out his squad.

Others making a name for themselves are Mike Snider, son of WO1 Jim Snider (RCAF). Mike patrols the left wing for the "CHED GOOD GUYS" of the Juvenile "AA" league and Mike is possibly one of the fastest skaters in Juvenile hockey in Canada. He is only 16 years of age. Derek Harker son of FL Les Harvey (RCAF). Both of these boys are with the "CHED" team as well. Dale Hegadoren, son of Sgt. C. L. Hegadoren (RCAF) is another member of the "CHED" squad. Jim Yonkers son of Sgt. Kevin Yonkers (ARMY) is a very valuable member of the "PARDEE EQUIPMENT" team of the Juvenile league. Brain Saunders son of SSgt. Sandy Saunders performs for the Maple Leaf of the Midget "AA" league and is a hard skating winger. Rick Ewing son of Sgt. Bob Ewing (ARMY) is with the Legionnaires of the Midget "AA" league and is a very talented left-winger. This kid was a member of last year's All Star Centennial Team from Alberta that competed in the Dominion Tournament in Toronto. These are just a few of the boys who are making their mark in Organized Minor Hickey in some of the fastest leagues in this country. When the roar goes up from the crowd during one of the games in BANTAM "AA", MIDGET "AA" or JUVENILE "AA", when a goal is scored, it is nice to hear someone say "That kid's from Namao or Griesbach" his Dad is a serviceman. They help as much as anything I know of, to let the people of Edmonton know that Griesbach and Namao are doing their share in shaping the youth of tomorrow.

LADIES CURLING — GRIESBACH

With Betty Mercer
At a meeting held 24 Oct it was decided by the Griesbach Ladies Curling Club to merge the executive of the morning and afternoon draws resulting in a new list of executives. The new executive is as follows:

President —
Mrs. Mickey McCannell,
Vice-President —
Mrs. Evelyn Bilbey, Secretary —
Mrs. Olive McMillan,
Assistant-Ssecretary —
Mrs. Betty Highet,
Treasurer —
Mrs. Jan Dales,
Publicity —
Mrs. Betty Mercer,
Assistant-Publicity —
Mrs. Jan Walker,
Draw Master —
Mrs. Sharron Lucas,
Assistant-Draw Master —
Sylvia Sehr.

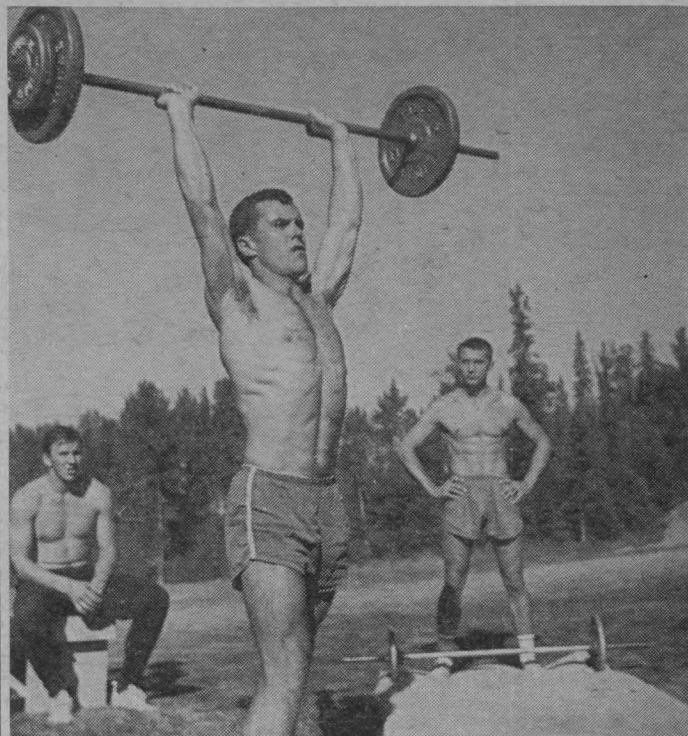

The Green Bonspiel has been arranged for Nov 24 and 25 with the first draw on the evening of the 24th. Subsequent draws will follow the next day with a supper to be served between draws Saturday evening. We hope that as many old and new members as possible will enter rinks to have a good bonspiel. This year the raffle is a Gold Ladies' Gruen Wrist Watch. Tickets can be obtained from any member of the Griesbach Ladies Curling League and can be obtained anytime or during the Bonspiel. The draw for the watch will be held at the conclusion of the Bonspiel.

The Zone Play-Downs for the ACA Bonspiel are coming up in Feb and if we have a proper Club-Playoff, the ACA will pay the entry fee. So get your teams together and start planning and practicing. Last year we got caught unprepared and the teams who went out at the last minute had to pay their own fees. This year with a little planning and lots of practice we should make a much better showing. So let's get with it —

All the best,
Betty Mercer.

THOUGHTS FOR CHRISTMAS

By Cpl. Quevillon MP

As the season progresses, and jolly old St. Nick comes sliding down the chimney, so do many other people. Everyone is in the Christmas spirit, and consequently, caution is thrown to the wind.

Parties are fine, but that last drink could be the one that kills. If you are bound and determined that you are going to have that extra little one, take a taxi home, and pick up your car the following day. Remember, you have responsibilities towards yourself, your wife, your sweetheart, and especially your children. They are the ones who suffer from your foolishness. Try and picture this situation: You are at a party, mother and the children are at home quite possibly tucked away in bed for the night, dreaming about the happy day to come — with opening gifts given to them from Santa, and YOU. Remember their eyes from last year, their laughs, that happy expression that can't be explained? They are nice thoughts, are they not? Now you at that party with your thoughtlessness, are going to have that last one too many; the one they say is for the road. You really don't need it, and don't want it, but just to please others you have it. Who are you fooling? Finally you exit the party, and with quite a bit of difficulty you get the car started, and in motion. Whoops — the road is slippery. "I wonder what that sign said"; although you know it looked like a stop sign. You chuckle to yourself saying "no one saw me." Then as you go down the road towards home, drowsy, and driving all over the road —

C R A S H

The next thing you know is that you are waking to the smell of ether, and the sight of white linen. That is if you are not in the morgue. You wonder what has happened and why. Was anyone hurt? Who was with you? Then you remember you saw a couple of lights and heard a child scream. Your head spins and you pass out. A while later you wake again and think about your little family, and the other family. A little late, my friend, a little late.

The Christmas Season is finished for you, your family, and possibly others; all because of stupidity.

I leave you with a very small but impressive thought —

Retires After Varied Career

Edmonton — Group Captain George H. Currie, of Edmonton and Edson, Alberta, retired from the RCAF October 31, after a military career spanning 26 years.

G/C Currie has been instrumental in setting up a number of bases from scratch and has recently returned from one of the most interesting assignments of his career when he completed a tour of duty as the first Canadian Air Advisor to the Tanzanian Government in Dar Salaam, Africa. As a member of the Canadian

Armed Forces Advisory Team Tanzania he spent almost two years in that country for the purpose of developing an air wing as an integral part of the Tanzanian defence organization.

During his varied career he was engaged in all aspects of pilot training and was well versed in a variety of staff and executive positions involving administration and personnel management. He was, therefore, an excellent choice for the demanding and interesting task of aiding a developing nation to establish its defence organization.

G/C Currie began his airforce career in Edmonton in 1941, taking flying training at various Alberta bases. After serving as a flying instructor at bases across Canada during the war years, he held staff positions including that of personal aide to the Air Officer Commanding the now defunct North Western Air Command at Edmonton.

In 1955, he went to 2 Wing at Gers Tonquin, France, as Chief Administrative Officer at that RCAF Air Division base. Returning to Canada in 1958 he graduated from the RCAF Staff College in Toronto prior to his appointment as staff officer in the officer's career branch at Training Command Headquarters in 1959. In 1962 he took command of the Jet school at 2 Flying Training School at Moose Jaw, Sask.

When speaking of leaving the RCAF G/C Currie stated "The service has treated me very well and naturally I'm retiring from its active life with nostalgia, but as a new member of the RCAF Senior Citizens, I am looking forward to making a contribution in a new career."

G/C Currie, who plans to return in the Edmonton area, is married to the former Helen Switzer of Edson. They have two daughters.

One day several winters ago, I arrived at the small factory where I worked to find the furnace broken down. We were sent home and were told that those who had wanted to return after the furnace was fixed would be called by phone, and the company car would pick them up. Since I didn't have a phone I left the number of the family that lived above me.

Two hours later, my upstairs neighbor came looking for me, pale and shaky. She handed me a note which read, "The heat is on. We are sending someone to get you."

PM GIVES US PAT ON BACK

Ottawa (CFP) — Prime Minister Pearson has written Defence Minister Cadieux to say thanks for the "very active assistance" of the defence department in making the centennial visits program a success.

Mr. Pearson wrote he "had the opportunity of seeing much of this work for myself and have also heard from our visitors how well, in every instance, the armed forces performed their tasks. Ships, ceremonial guards, aircraft squadron, ground transport organizations and of course the headquarters and staffs which planned their activities all deserve the greatest credit."

JEFF NICKLIN TROPHY FOR WFC MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Calgary — The Jeff Nicklin Memorial Trophy has been presented by the Canadian Forces to the Western Football Conference for their permanent retention to be awarded annually to the Most Valuable Player in the Western Conference.

As he made the presentation at Canadian Forces Base Calgary Oct 19, Brigadier S.C. Waters, Commander 1 Canadian Infantry Brigade Group requested Mr. P. M. Mahoney, President of the WFC, to award the trophy so that it may continue to be an active remembrance of a courageous Canadian officer and outstanding sportsman, Lieutenant Colonel Jeff Nicklin, Commanding Officer of 1 Parachute Battalion in 1945.

Lt.-Col Nicklin was killed in action while parachuting into Germany during the great airborne crossing of the Rhine in March 1945. He was shot as he struggled to free himself from his dangling parachute, snagged in a tree.

Prior to demobilization at Niagra-on-the-Lake in 1945 members of the Parachute Battalion originated this trophy to perpetuate the name of their commanding officer.

"It showed, I think," said Brig Waters who was second-in-command of the Battalion in 1945, "the sentiment and feeling for Lt-Col Nicklin by the men he had commanded."

Before the war Jeff Nicklin was an outstanding football player with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in 1937, 1938, 1939 and 1940 when the team won the Western Championship.

When the parachute Battalion was disbanded the trophy passed to Prairie Command and then to Canadian Joint Air Training Centre, Rivers, Manitoba. Continuing the contact with the 'chutists the trophy was placed in the custody of the 1st Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Edmonton who arranged the presentation of the prized award to the player adjudged the Most Valuable Player by Western sports writers and broadcasters.

The changing roles of these units and their disassociation with the active airborne element of the Forces led to the placing of the Jeff Nicklin Memorial Trophy in the custodianship of the Western Football Conference.

CHARLIE GRIMES

PLAIN STUPID OR VERY SMART?

I wonder what has happened to Charlie Grimes?

Charlie was one of those blokes who was never meant to be in uniform, who could never get the hang of discipline and regimentation. To put it more clearly, Charlie was the type who always responded to the order "BYDERLEF QUEEMAR!" by starting off with his right foot.

I have seen Permanent Force sergeants, seasoned in the ways of all manner of men from Singapore to Alexandria, go ashen-faced after twenty minutes of Charlie in the ranks.

Looking back on it now I can't exactly blame Charlie for being a bit bewildered. We all were. You entered the Service after twenty years of a loose and somewhat carefree life doing mostly as you pleased. Suddenly a madman with three stripes on his arm bares his teeth and shouts something unintelligible which sounds like SLAWWHEP! and there you are with a rifle in your hands feeling like a lost dummy.

Like Pavlova's dog, most of us learned that when King Kong with the three stripes roared SLAWWHEP! we were to move our rifles into a vertical position in the general direction of our catch our movements from the corner of his eye. Tree seconds after our slope was completed, Charlie's rifle would then fall into position.

Invariably the two-striper would stand there with a shocked look on his face as if he personally had been affronted, and then stride grimly towards Charlie with fire and brimstone in his eyes.

Kit inspection was something which made Charlie inwardly cringe. I suspect that in civvy street he never did a tap of work around the house, never made a bed, folded a pair of socks or pressed a pair of pants.

You fellas will remember the perfection of the pictures which were posted in the huts to show us how to lay out our kit. Shirts, P.T. vests and cellular drawers folded into a square column on one side, with tightly folded battle dress making a symmetrical column at the other end. In between were socks, made into they were indeed. Some bloke at little grey logs. Beautiful pictures Ottawa must have stayed awake nights with a slide rule figuring out how to confuse troops.

Anyhow, Charlie — all thumbs that he was — was pitiful, just left shoulder.

Poor Charlie. Just when he finally grasped what SLAWWHEP! meant, along would come a two-striper to take over the squad and he would yell EEEY-AAH-HUH! Charlie would then dazedly shift his rifle widely in all directions, vainly trying to plain pitiful. And you fellas know just how understanding and sympathetic an orderly sergeant can be when it is him that's going to get hell from the inspecting officer for the condition of his huts.

Looking back now I can't figure out if Charlie was just dumb, stupid or so damn smart that we couldn't catch on. Just before inspection the hut corporal would take one look at Charlie's bunk and scream, "Oh, you dumb bazur Grimes! Lookit your small-kit, knife-fork-spoon-razor-shaving brush-toothbrush all out of position. Where t'hell is your spare shirt? Jumpin' Lena, we'll all be C.B.'d for a week. Here, let me do it". And Charlie would stand by with that helpless look on his face.

This, of course, inevitably led to Charlie doing more fatigue duties than any ten men in the company. And this, funnily enough, he didn't seem to mind, even takin a pleased and relaxed attitude that he was relieved of those terrible parade ground responsibilities.

Whether it was laying a cinder track to the Officers' Mess in the camp, helping to scrub out the NAAFI canteen or spending a restful day in the weapon stores cleaning Bren guns, Charlie was at ease.

Like all good things, Charlie became an expert at fatigue duties. Eventually success went to his head. Instead of following the manual, he invented new ways of his own in doing fatigues. And that idea, as you will remember, can be deadly.

"I think", says Charlie one bright October morning at Army H.Q. in Leatherhead. "I think I have perfected a new method of leaf-sweeping".

"If you know what is good for you", says Baldy McQueen, "you'll do it the way they tell you to do it AND LEAVE THE BLINKIN' THINKIN' TO THE BRASS".

Ignoring him, Charlie proceeds, "You see, Baldy, instead of sweeping the leaves forward, causing them to disperse ahead, I pull them backwards towards myself into regular piles and all the time working backwards".

"Ifen you take my advice", mutters Baldy out of the corner of his mouth, "you'll do it like they tell you to do it".

"Nonsense", says Charlie, carried away by the enthusiasm of his new-fonud perfection. "Look-see, I can do it this way using only one hand". And with that he draws a pile of leaves towards him.

"You want to watch it, mate", mutters Baldy as he sweeps his leaves forward in the prescribed manner. "If you make it look too easy, then where'll we be?"

"Oh, baloney, Baldy", says Charlie as with one grand sweep of his right arm he gathers a pile of leaves towards him, meantime pirouetting like a ballet dancer.

Up comes a 30-hundred weight lorry and a sergeant-major jumps out.

"Gawdamighty, the sarjant-major!" moans Baldy, busily increasing his strokes per minute.

The C.S.M. strides vigorously towards them.

"You lot!" he calls loudly. "What d'you thing you're doing? Push them! And use both hands", he roars.

"Sir", says Charlie naively, "I think I have found a better way. If you'll —"

"Arguing?" asks the C.S.M. with a deadly quiet menace. "STAND TO ATTENTION!" he roars.

Charlie, nearly jumping out of his skin, springs wildly to attention, letting his broom fly loose, the handle striking the C.S.M. in a very tender spot.

The C.S.M. turns another colour.

"Names? Names!" he bellers. "I'll remember you. Corporal... CORPORAL! Where in blazes is that bloody corporal?"

Whitefaced, the detail corporal who has been dogging it having a smoke beneath a tree, doubles forward, notebook in hand. "Sah?"

"Put these men on drains, sewers, anything that will make soldiers out of them. And you. Corporal," he glowers darkly, "I want to see you afterwards".

"Sah!" says the corporal, frightened half out of his wits.

"Oh Blimey me" moans Baldy, "you've sure mucked it up, Grimes. We won't get out of this camp for a bleedin' month".

Yes-sir. That was twenty-five years ago. Good old Charlie Grimes, you were a card. You were indeed.

CREDIT UNION NEWS

The staff of The Bugle welcomes this new column which will be presented monthly by the staff of Edmonton Amalgamated Savings & Credit Union Ltd. who readily supply information and advice to all civil servants, service personnel and their immediate families who are interested in joining this respected and worthwhile organization.

For our first issue we at the Credit Union would like to tell all readers the "Credit Union Story" as follows.

Quote. What have you done to promote your credit union? Are you satisfied with the service your credit union gives you? Has it been a friend in need when you needed to borrow?

Have you told a friend or neighbor about your credit union? Have you encouraged others to join your credit union?

Had you thought about telling your friends and neighbors how our credit union has always encouraged thrift and that our members have accumulated in excess of TWO MILLION DOLLARS in assets by putting a little aside each month.

There's a lot more you can tell your friends and neighbors about your credit union:

1. It offers a convenient place to save at a good dividend rate.
2. It offers dollar-for-dollar life insurance on savings (up to $2,000.00).
3. It offers easy-to-get loans at inexpensive interest rates.
4. It arranges office hours to suit the convenience of its members.
5. It protects members' funds through bonding of officers and employees and periodic audits (both internal and external).
6. It protects the privacy of members' transactions.
7. It is a democratic organization — one member, one vote.
8. It is owned and operated by you, its members.

There is much more to the credit union story. Members are encouraged to buy wisely, to save with a plan for definite goals, and for future security. Credit union personnel is always glad to sit down with members and help them work out a budget plan that best suits their income and way of life.

Have you told the credit union story recently? If not, try it.

HOW TO DOUBLE YOUR MONEY

To find out, divide the rate of dividend received into 72. The answer is the number of years. Therefore, money invested at six per cent compounded annually will double in about 12 years. Unquote.

A woman visiting her doctor's office stopped short in amazement at the door. Seated in chairs ranged along the better part of three walls were nine solemn-faced young girls in green Girl Scout uniforms. From their somber expressions she imagined that some horrendous disaster had struck the troop.

What in the world happened?" she asked a demure little girl sitting on the end seat.

"We're here with Marguerite,"

she replied nervously.

Fearing the worst, the woman asked, "And what's wrong with Marguerite?"

"She's having her ears pierced," the Girl Scout replied.

ARMED FORCES TRAINING AREA BEING PLANNED

By Eric Dennis

Ottawa — Copyright

A vast stretch of coastline in the Strait of Canso region of Guysborough County is to be developed into a combined operations training area by the defence department, it was learned here.

The exact location for what was described as a "range" for practising army landings under simulated air and sea bombardment cover is to be kept secret until plans are completed.

But it was reported to be a strip between Dover and Whitehead where 90 per cent of the required beach and back-up land is already crown-owned.

The "combined ops" range would be the first of its size operated on Canadian terrain. In the past Canadian defence forces have carried out much training exercises in coastal areas of the United States and the Caribbean.

Defence department officials said because historic shore fish-drying rights are involved in the area, all exercises would be confined to off-fishing seasons.

Reports that the plans would involve moving some of the installations at the Bedford Naval Magazine to the region were denied by departmental spokesmen.

As explained by officials, the "range" would be regarded as enemy territory about to be stormed by Canadian forces. It will be subjected to naval bombardment from sea and "attack" from the air followed up by the landing of troops from landing barges and other means.
